Dear Reader, It has been a little over a year since I decided to take my writing and pursue my dream to publish. In that short amount of time, I have been enfolded by the arms of a fantastic Indie Artist community; a community that continues to overwhelm me with support, positivity, and encouragement on a daily basis. I am deeply thankful. As I near the culmination of the first book in my Realm of Meard series, and prepare for my life in publication, I must place my dream on pause for just a moment. You see I am an Oklahoman, born and raised, and this year tragedy has ripped its way through the heart of my state, my community, and my family. While my heart has grieved alongside those touched by tragedies in other communities, I could still distance it from myself. My tears were no less sad than those experiencing their loss, yet my eyes did not greet the raw destruction in person. The storms and tornadoes that came through our state this past May were less than five miles from our own home. My husband and I were watching the local news station reporting on the path of the tornado, when we lost all cable and phone services. Nothing can describe the terror of looking around your home, before getting in your car to retrieve your children from school, knowing that you may not have a home to come back to. Fear for our neighbors and friends that we knew were in its path, magnified our own, and we like many others prepared to flee the area. Thankfully, our home and our immediate familys homes...
